

TRANSCRIPT: Kahrl's Killer Club Katzinger's Sandwich

Katzinger's Founder Diane Warren says:

"This last sandwich we're going to talk about today is #70, Kahrl's Killer Club. Boy, he's gonna die when he sees this.

The guy's name was Matt Kahrl. And Matt worked for a company that did lots of business with Katzinger's, ordered lots of sandwiches. And his favorite sandwich was sort of a classic club sandwich with turkey and ham and bacon and cheese and lettuce and tomato and mayonnaise on three slices of challah bread - it was a great sandwich. A lot to write up on an order sheet.

So what the staff did, my terrific staff did, they said, lets make this into a sandwich menu sandwich and that way we just only have to write the sandwich number instead of all of all these things. And we said great idea.

So #70, that's Kahrl's Killer Club is that sandwich and that's where it came from."
